I went to the zoo-oo with my friend and my fam-i - ly. I came to see the mon-keys at the Mon-key Is - land. When we ar - rived, I could- n't see them. Where had they all gone? I said, oh, where, oh, whe- re did the mon-keys go? ___ Oh, where, oh, where my fri -
 - end? ___ Oh, tell me, where, oh, where did the mon-keys go? ___ I love to wa - tch them play. Well, I looked ver - y care-ful - ly, sear- ching up and down each tree, but all I could see were the bran-ches and the leaves. I know they're there, but they're so hid - den. Where were they all now? Please tell me... where, oh, whe- re did the

mon- keys go? ___ Oh, where, oh, where, my fri -

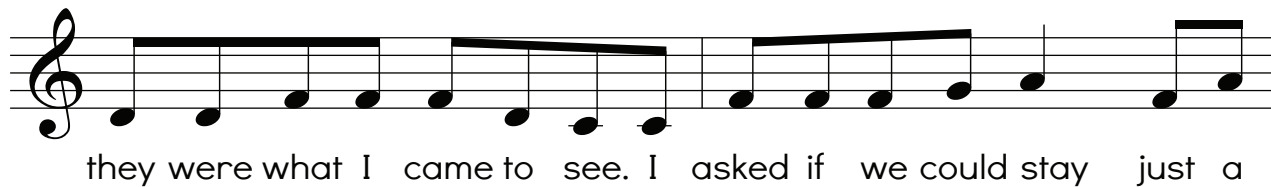

- end? ___ Oh, tell me, where, oh, where did the

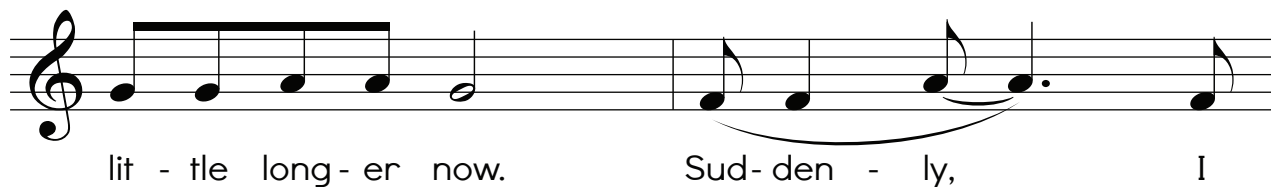

mon- keys go? ___ They should be swing - ing in the trees. Then my dad said it was time to leave, but they were what I came to see. I asked if we could stay just a lit - tle long - er now. Sud - den - ly, I saw one swing - ing, then more came out to play! I thought, oh, where, oh, whe - re did the

mon - keys go? ___ Oh, where, oh, where, my fri -

- end? ___ Oh, tell me, where, oh, where did the

mon - keys go? ___ They're swing - ing from br - anch to branch! Well, I could not believe my eyes.

They were ev-ery-where in sight! Each came out from hiding to a place where I could see! Jump-ing here, — and run-ing the - re. Swing-ing through-out the trees! I said I know just whe-re all the mon-keys go! I know where they all hi -

- de! — It's so fun to see where the mon-keys go. — I could watch them all— day long.
